NRO Statement on IGF Continuation

- The RIRs, as the NRO, have participated in the IGF process, representing the interests of community members from developed and developing regions
- NRO supports an environment where all stakeholders can participate equally and openly
- The non-decision making status of the IGF facilitates valuable, constructive discussion, and informs and inspires decision makers
- The NRO urges greater efforts to facilitate remote participation in IGF events
- The NRO is committed to engaging with and financially contributing to the IGF, and encourages other stakeholders to join us in this

NRO Statement on IGF Continuation

- Delivered directly to United Nations Under-Secretary-General for Economic & Social Affairs, Sha Zukang

IGF 2010: Continuation of the IGF

- UN Secretary-General's Note on the Continuation of the IGF published this week
- Incorporates suggestions made by the NRO on remote participation and structure

IGF 2010: 14-17 September, Vilnius

- The NRO has proposed workshop sessions on:
 - IPv6 Around The World: Surveying the Current and Future Deployment of IPv6, Critical Internet Resource [accepted]
 - Enhancing Transparency in Internet Governance Openness [accepted, merging with ISOC India proposal]
 - Maintaining the Open Architecture of the Internet
- We are looking for industry partners to work with us on these workshops – please approach us!
- Major session on Critical Internet Resources (CIR)
 - Including RIR representatives

Opportunities for Russian ITC

- Internet Technical Community established as recognised player in multistakeholder arena
- Challenge to collect positions of regional ITC for injection into newly formed channels
- Opportunity to engage globally with all stakeholders in Internet Governance
- IGF environment proves highly effective for exchange of experiences and expectations
- Again: Internet Governance starts at home!
